Judge Pond contemplating mechanics of program

Rent subsidy funding available for students, elderly, others

More than $100,000 in federal funds have been made available to Randall County governments for a rent subsidy program for low income families, but officials here aren't sure what to do next.

County Judge Woody Pond was notified by letter recently that The Department of Housing and Urban Development will accept an application for the rent-subsidy funds and that $108,000 in such funds have already been allocated to the county for use in Canyon or Amarillo.

If utilized, the funds might provide some relief for the elderly in the city, Pond believes, and they might also provide some relief for West Texas State University married students, who complained last spring that no low-cost housing is available in Canyon.

But, Pond said Monday he's not sure which way to turn and will write the Dallas HUD office for more information before making a formal application for the funds.

George Loudder, executive director of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, indicated Monday that there may not be much more information available on the program other than that already given Pond in the letter from HUD.

Canyon city officials are apparently in the dark on the subject. City Manager Glen Metcalf said his office has received no notification of the program.

"We'll just wait," he said. "We haven't received anything on it."

"I don't know how we'd get into mplementing it," Pond said of the program. "I need to know more about it."

Apparently, Amarillo planners know how to implement it. Pond said he has already been contacted by Amarillo city officials about allocating the funding available under the program for use in that city.

Before he does that, he said, he'll study the needs in Canyon.

Loudder said the program, as his staff understands it, is a part of the Community Development Act of 1974, an act with which the city of Canyon has already had trouble. HUD initially told Canyon about $760,000 in funding for various community projects would be available last fall. Then, early this year, HUD told city officials no money would be available to the city.

Loudder said the HUD regional office in Dallas has said it will allocate funding to counties only for subsidy payments on the rent of existing housing within those counties. Subsidies will not be paid through the program for the first year on new homes.

Loudder said the problem is complicated by the fact that HUD does not have any funding available for the rehabilitation of existing housing to meet HUD standards on housing which can be subsidized.

He said the program would be an expensive one to administer because the eligibility of low-income families would have to be verified and certified.

The funding, he said, is really meant for large cities with complete housing staffs.

As outlined by the HUD letter, the program would be administered by the county or city and if through the city it would be administered by the Canyon Housing Authority.

The average annual subsidy per household for rent on existing homes would be between $1400 and $2000, the letter says, based on the income of the family.

Families would pay 15 to 25 per cent of their adjusted gross income toward the gross rent and the remainder of the rent would be subsidized through the program.

Families or elderly persons receiving the rental assistance payments could live in rental housing, including homes, duplexes, apartments and mobile homes providing the units meet "reasonable housing quality standards and performance requirements."

An administrative fee to administer the program would be allocated the governmental unit responsible for the housing

Afternoon of fun set for 4th celebration

The summer doldrums will be broken in Canyon Friday with a non-traditional afternoon and evening of back-to-back activities at Conner Park.

This year's Fourth of July fare consists of the more traditional downtown parade, big barbecue dinner and fireworks. But, it also offers activities directly related to the local effort to celebrate the nation's bicentennial anniversary.

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce has this year been joined by the Randall County-Canyon Bicentennial Committee to sponsor the full evening of events.

Friday should be a quiet day in the city — until the evening hours. Most businesses will be closed for the day and governmental offices will also be closed.

But, at 5 p.m., the official events get underway on the square in downtown Canyon as a 30-entry parade begins its trek down 4th Avenue from west of the square to 19th Street, then turns down 19th to the south and into Conner Park.

Among entries in the parade will be the German compah band consisting of local musicians. Local elected officials will also ride in the parade and U.S. Rep. Jack Hightower will also ride in the motorcade.

The bicentennial committee will sponsor a pet parade and a bike decorating contest for the parade. All pets entered in the parade must be on leash or held for the length of the route. Those entering the pet parade or the bike decorating contest will gather at the First National Bank parking lot prior to the 5 p.m. start. A Pioneer Days theme has been set for the bike contest. Winners of both contests will be awarded prizes.

Shortly after the parade breaks up in Conner Park, Hightower will join local VFW officials and Trice in a flag-raising ceremony and a dedication ceremony for the community's bicentennial flag. Hightower is expected to make a brief speech, followed by Trice.

Then, at 6 p.m. the lines will begin forming for a full menu of barbecue beef with all the trimmings. The chamber hosts the evening meal which will be cooked by Saga Food Service under the supervision of County Judge Woody Pond.

Cost of the meal will be $2 per plate for adults and $1 for children

Lair says 'let Amarillo annex land'

A Canyon housing developer voiced conditional opposition Tuesday night to Canyon School Board plans to issue $5 to $7 million worth of bonds for the construction of two new schools.

A. W. Lair, developer of Hunsley Hills, called for the board to reconsider and modify its stand against annexation of school lands by Amarillo particularly in the area north of Hollywood Road and west of the Canyon Expressway.

Allowing Amarillo School District to annex property to the west of the expressway would probably not lessen the need for new schools in the Canyon district, Lair conceded, but might lessen the total dollar amount needed for construction of those schools.

Lair's opposition was the first public reaction to a long-planned expansion of the school district's facilities.

Board members took official notice of Lair's comments, distributed to board members on eight legal-size pages, but then proceeded later in their meeting to set in motion the machinery to push for passage of the bond issue.

Board members approved the appointment of 41 school district residents to a Committee for Quality Education, 43 residents to a Committee for Sound Financing, and 22 to a Publicity Committee.

"When I first heard that the Amarillo Independent School District had proposed that a part of the Canyon Independent School District be ceded to them, I reacted with indignation," Lair said in his statement. "However, as time went by and I began to analyze the position of each District on its merits, excluding the emotional element which first entered the picture, I began to see that the proposition of Amarillo Independent School District made sense and that Canyon Independent School District should give some consideration to it."

Lair said he feels the current position of the CISD board, a position which rejects the idea of allowing AISD to annex any CISD property, will ultimately harm the district, the county and the city of Canyon.

The AISD is better able to take care financially of the school needs of the southwest portion of Amarillo, he said, and the CISD board should negotiate with the Amarillo board to redraw school boundary lines in that area so that Canyon retains its boundaries to the west of the expressway while allowing Amarillo to annex property as the city grows to the southwest.

The county is hurt by the CISD board's position, he said, because stifled development to the southwest of Amarillo also stifles new tax revenues which would otherwise be available to the county.

Lair also contended that more houses in Southwest Amarillo would mean more potential customers to Canyon merchants.

"A trend for Amarillo to build toward the southwest had gained tremendous momentum until the boundary question was raised," Lair said. "Since the boundary question has arisen, the Ridgecrest and Puckett sections are completely sold out, and building to the west has been cut off like a fence has been built down Coulter Road. Before Canyon Independent School District buildings can be built, this trend may be completely switched to the northwest of Amarillo."

While Lair said he believes a continued stand against annexation by Amarillo would hurt Canyon and Randall County economically, he said he also believes Canyon will be hurt politically if the school board refuses to give up property in the southwest portion of Amarillo.

"In the last 15 years, Canyon has lost complete control of the government of Randall County," he said. "If we follow the policy being enunciated by this board, in less than five years the people in the Canyon Independent School District in the north part of the county will be able to elect the entire school board."

Lair said Canyon and Amarillo should work together for the growth of both areas.

The Hunsley developer warned that in a short period of time, the Canyon district could be called upon to build not just one, but three, high schools in the north portion of the district, and he said that the CISD board should

Major juvenile crime continues on upswing for half of year

Major juvenile crime continued to increase through the first six months of this year in Randall County.

Adult felony offenses were also up over the same period in 1974.

Dist. Atty. Randall Sherrod said the juvenile case load has become so overwhelming that his office has cut back on the number of cases which will be worked through normal channels and is now relying more and more on the ability of juvenile probation officers to deal with young offenders.

Figures in the district attorney's office and the juvenile probation office indicate that even with this cutback in formal prosecutions, the number of juvenile cases handled by the DA rose to nearly 70 during the first half of the year. That compares with 53 for the first six months of 1974.

Sherrod said he's changed procedures in his office to screen the juvenile cases which must go before a district court judge in an effort to cut down the case load.

"We had to slack off some on the kinds of cases we were handling through the courts," he said. "We're not taking every one before the court — just those instances where it would do the child and society the most good."

Sherrod said the case load had gotten "to the point where we had to cut back."

Juvenile Probation Officer Ron Cowart said the number of cases handled by his office is not up considerably over the same period last year, but that the cases being handled now are more serious than they were a year ago.

He said juvenile offenders are becoming more serious crime offenders than in the past, with the shift going into burglaries, thefts and other types of stealing.

The number of truancies and run-aways being reported is down slightly, he said, primarily because there is no proper retaining facility for these offenders.

He said most of those juveniles reported for truancy or run-away are repeat offenders.

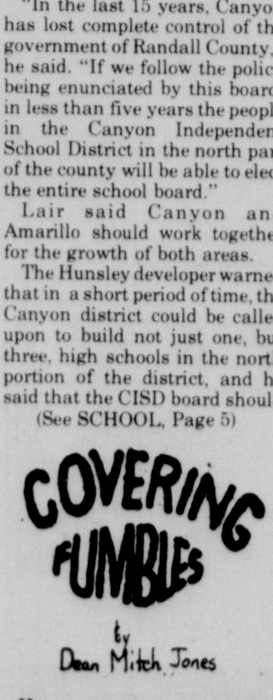
The number of felony cases filed in Randall County during the first six months of the year were up slightly over the same period of 1974 but still down slightly from the same period in 1973.

Felony cases filed totalled 71 during the first six months this year compared to 62 for the same period in 1974 and 76 for a similar period in 1973.

Indictments were returned against 59 persons during the past six months compared to 43 returned during the initial six months of 1974.

Sherrod said the increase in felony cases is probably the result of normal growth in the county.

"It's something the county is going to have to get used to," he said, "since it's going to increase with the population."



How can one be happy when so many people that you love are miserable.

Effects of cloud seeding prove to be cloudy

Cloud seeding in the Texas Panhandle apparently has little effect on the amount of rainfall areas receive and little effect, too, on the hail damage caused area crops, Texas A&M University researchers reported recently.

A study team from the Center for Applied Geosciences for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at A&M reported to the Texas Water Development Board that a study of cloud seeding in 1970-73 indicates the weather modification has little impact on agriculture in 14-county study area just south of Randall County.

Copies of the final report of the team are available in the office of County Agent John Brazzil.

The conclusions of the report speak directly to a controversy which raged in Randall County last spring as two weather modification firms south of here geared up to begin spring cloud seeding in an effort to prevent hail.

Several south Randall County farmers and ranchers contended that in their attempts to stop hail in counties to the south, the firms were also stopping rainfall in Randall County.

They protested the weather modification procedures before the water development board last spring to no avail.

The research report issued in June listed these conclusions:

*The 14 counties studied received less rainfall during the three years during which cloud seeding was used, but "The findings of this study tend to suggest that weather modification attempts had no significant effect on the observed rainfall distributions."

*"The statistical analyses of the hail and cotton-loss data did not indicate a significant effect on hail damage due to cloud seeding. This does not prove that there is no effect from the seeding program, but that, based on available data, no effect could be discerned."

The study team recommends that data be gathered and analysed from areas such as Randall County over which the cloud seeding is not conducted.

Counties included in the study were Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Terry, and Lynn.

Under two programs approved by the water development board last spring, weather modification programs will continue in Castro and Hale counties through the summer and into the fall.

The water development board instructed the cloud seeders in those two areas to keep their planes substantially out of Randall County and was to have hired a professional monitor to watch the cloud-seeding operations.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Aleksander Solzhenitsyn, expatriate Russian author, sounded a grim warning for the west in a speech in New York early this week.

Author of "Gulag Archipelago" in effect said we have already lost World War III to the Russians. Maneuvered into nuclear detente with the communists, we are outnumbered hopelessly in conventional weapons and manpower.

Although I do not think it is as bad as Solzhenitsyn paints it, it is indeed grim. Idealogical warfare being waged by the Russians has not abated in spite of the proffered olive branch.

Neither have the Russians kept a treaty not in their best interests to keep.

If we listen to the Kennedys and McGoverns and let down our defenses, undoubtedly we will wind up counting rubles.

Let's let the Amarillo School District have the land they want in north Randall County — giving value received for it of course.

The most certain way for us to surrender ALL our schools to Amarillo control is for us to hang on in North Randall County.

There was a time when Canyon furnished four commissioners and a judge for Randall County — complete control of commissioners court.

Then Amarillo got one county commissioner — a little later two and now three commissioners owe their election to Amarillo oriented voters and the county judge serves at the pleasure of South Amarillo.

The same thing could happen to the Canyon School District. If we are stubborn about this matter we can eventually see a school board dominated by South Amarillo and we will have lost control of our school just like Canyon lost control of Randall County.

Death Ruled Accidental

Justice of the Peace W.A. "Bill" Wilson ruled Tuesday the death of a 75-year-old Canyon man, who was hit by a west-bound freight train Monday afternoon, was accidental.

Wilson's ruling came after he talked with witnesses to the incident and with relatives of Lester Bryan Rhees of 2003 5th Ave., who had lived in Canyon only two weeks.

Rhees was killed about 5:30 p.m. Monday when he was struck by a Santa Fe Railway train with 52 loaded boxcars about ¼ of a mile west of Canyon.

Graveside funeral services were held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at Dreamland Cemetery with the Rev. Bill Kent, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was under the direction of Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors of Canyon.

Patrolman Larry McLendon of the Department of Public Safety, said the westbound freight was traveling about 50 miles per hour when it struck Rhees, who had apparently sat down on the railroad tracks.

McLendon quoted Engineer G.L. Denny of Amarillo as saying Rhees walked onto the railroad right-of-way and then turned his back to the approaching train, sat down on the tracks and appeared to slump over.

Rhee's body was carried more than 100 feet by the impact of the collision and several limbs were severed before his body was thrown to the north of the tracks.

Wilson said Rhees had been missing from his home here about two hours and that his son-in-law, Lloyd H. Sparks of 49 Southridge Drive, was at the sheriff's office to report on the disappearance of Rhees when the report of his death came in.

Rhees was a retired machinist from Chicago.

Survivors include his wife, Alice, of the home, and a daughter, Mrs. Gerry Sparks of 49 Southridge Drive.

WTSU's Wilson Honored

Dr. Kenneth O. Wilson, associate professor in the Department of Animal Science at West Texas State University, received the NACTA 1975 Teacher Fellow Award and Southern Region Outstanding Teacher Fellow at the annual convention of the National Association of Colleges and Teachers of Agriculture.

The sessions, held at California State University, Fresno (June 16-18), were attended by nearly 100 agricultural educators from throughout the U. S. and Canada. The theme of the convention was "Education in Agriculture: Accountability, Responsibility, Technology."

Dr. Wilson received his B. S. degree at West Texas State University and his M. S. and Ph.D. degrees from Texas A&M University. After completing his doctorate, he returned to West Texas State as a member of the Department of Animal Science, with responsibilities for teaching dairy science courses and management of the Dairy Center.

He has used the dairy herd in his classes to give students direct involvement to such an extent that the University's dairy judging teams are constantly among the top five nationally.

Dr. Wilson received the School of Agriculture Outstanding Teacher Award in 1968 and 1974. He was nominated by West Texas State University Faculty for the Teaching Fellow Award in .

Alumn Award Given Woman

Mrs. Shirley Harrold of 1014 South Parker, Amarillo, Texas, was awarded the Gamma Sigma Sigma National Service Sorority National Outstanding Alumna Award on June 22 at the Gamma Sigma Sigma National Convention held at Ball State University in Muncie, Indiana, and hostessed by Gamma Omicron Chapter. Mrs. Harrold currently serves as Sectional Aide to Delta Beta Chapter at West Texas State University, to Delta Eta Chapter at the University of Texas at El Paso, and to the Wheatheart Alumnae Colony in Amarillo.

Excavations At Buffalo Camp

The excavations currently underway at Adobe Walls mean more than the piecing together of the Texas Panhandles exciting history.

"It's the first buffalo hunters' camp that has ever been excavated in the United States," says Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum Director James Hanson, whose Curator of Anthropology Bill Harrison is unearthing the important site. "It is giving us a fair picture of their day-to-day life."

Adobe Walls, which consisted of a saloon, blacksmith shop, general merchandise store and hide-buying store, was built and occupied by 29 people for a short six months in the spring of 1874. The buffalo migration had barely begun when a band of 700 Comanche, Cheyenne and possibly Kiowa Indians began their day-long attack on June 27. A lucky 1500 yard shot by Billy Dixon which killed one of the Indians stopped further assault; the Indians had been told by their medicine man that the white men's bullets could not harm them. Discouraged, the buffalo hunters abandoned their camp that July.

"This is an absolutely clean site," Hanson says. "Nothing has been built over it, nor habit been interfered with."

Although the museum has owned the land for more than 50 years, this is the first time that any of the site has been studied.

Because a monument and Billy Dixon's grave are situated on the area which was the general merchandise store, Harrison and his assistant, Henry Smith, are excavating the saloon.

Two weeks of work have already told them that the saloon was not as big as originally reported, nor was the camp burned by the Indians after the hunters departure.

Harrison has found primers, cartridges and other implements for the making and re-loading of bullets scattered about the saloon floor, as well as broken whiskey and gin bottles, a sole of a boot, whiskey barrel straps, a steel arrowhead and a candle lamp with the candle still in position.

Harrison plans to continue his work for several more weeks.

Daugherty Is Honor Grad

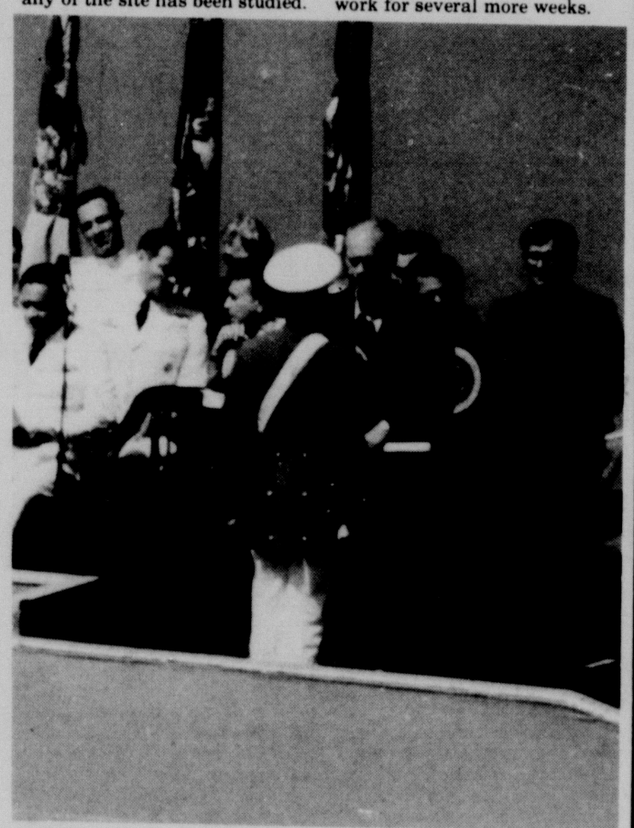
Stephen F. Daugherty of Canyon, graduated magna cum laude from Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee, in May.

His bachelor of Arts degree was awarded during 1975 spring commencement exercises as Vanderbilt celebrated its centennial commencement.

Daugherty edited the 1975 yearbook, the Commodore, after serving as photographer and head photographer in previous years. As a member of the board of directors of Vanderbilt Student Communications, Inc., he participated in policy decisions and supervision of the yearbook, newspaper, magazines, and radio station.

Stephen was one of 13 senior men selected by the faculty and students from a senior class of 950 members for membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, a men's national leadership honor society. Criteria for selection to membership are character, scholarship and leadership. He was active in Phi Eta Sigma, an honorary scholarship society, and in Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

A 1971 graduate of Canyon High School, Daugherty is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Franklin W. Daugherty. He is visiting his parents and sisters, Claire Daugherty and Sheila Abbott in Canyon prior to entering The University of Texas medical school at San Antonio.



2LT Michael Cannon, son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Cannon of Canyon, received his baccalaureate of science diploma from President Gerald Ford during commencement and commissioning ceremonies held earlier this month at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, NY. Cannon finished 40th in a class of 849 at West Point and was named a distinguished graduate. Cannon will go to school at Fort Knox, KY., and then to Fort Benning, GA., for more schooling before serving with the 11th Armored Calvary Regiment in Germany.

Kindergarten Set At WT

A demonstration kindergarten will be conducted later this summer at West Texas State University, but parents may begin enrolling their children now.

Students, ages 4-6 who have not attended first grade, are required for the program and will be accepted on a first-come-first-served basis.

Classes begin July 17 and end Aug. 15. Class meetings will be from 9 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. daily in room 301 of the education building.

Graduate and undergraduate students will teach the young kindergarten children under the direction of Donna Prather.

A $1 fee will be charged for the kindergarten.

Those wishing to enroll children should contact the education office at 655-7141 extension 49.

Reynolds Given Scholarship

Billy L. Reynolds of Canyon, the son of Mr. Chester Reynolds was awarded a $300 scholarship funded by Monsanto.

Reynolds is one of 24 scholarship recipients for the 1975-76 school year, the Department of Mechanical Engineering at Texas A&M University announced Monday.

"The department awards these scholarships which are funded by gifts from companies," Simmang explained. "Some scholarships stress financial need; most stress good academic performance. The recipients are selected by a committee on a competitive basis."

"Overall it is believed that many students receive just the help and encouragement required, through the scholarship program, to get them through graduation," he added. "Many state that without it they would have gotten discouraged and dropped out of college."

Long Weekend Plans 'Cool' For July 4th Festivities

Three day holidays are great for young and old alike and with the Fourth of July falling on Friday — it'll be a fine time for Texans to again test their survival training on the highways.

For those who avoid or otherwise escape the traffic mayhem, the Texas Safety Association sends a reminder that the long weekend holiday also offers a variety of other opportunities to get killed — drowned — burned — maimed — poisoned — or be brought in lame.

Take the heat and sun of July. They are often killers while funloving Texans watch parades or participate in outdoor games, or spend time working in their yards. Those who plan to be up and about again Monday should stay to the shade where possible and avoid dehydration by drinking plenty of cool water, soft drinks and iced tea.

The sun is especially hazardous to the sunbather — often causing painful over exposure to its rays (and sometimes even skin cancers as a result).

So try picnics — where all should ever be alert to the dangers of food poisoning which is especially dangerous in the summertime when luncheon meats, potato salads, etc. get warm in the sun and then breed bacteria. Picnic foods should be kept insulated in coolers and set out on picnic tables only when it is time to eat — and remember the leftovers should be put back into the cooler promptly to protect those who want snacks later.

Another way of missing that work deadline on Monday is to engage in some overly strenuous or unaccustomed activity. The least to expect would be some strained muscles and sprained ankles — but the really big one is a heart attack.

Just cool it! Enjoy the Fourth of July holidays to your hearts content — but cool it and be around to celebrate the other long week ends later in the year.

B. McCaslands Reveal Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Bob McCasland of the Jowell Community, southwest of Canyon, announce the June 22 birth of a daughter, Keri Jane, at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The baby girl weighed 8 pounds, 9½ ounces and measured 20½ inches at birth. Other children in the McCasland family include Kaye Lynn, 10; Carol, 7; and Karen, 5.

Mr. McCasland is a farmer-stockman. Grandparents include Mrs. A.R. Jacob of Canyon and Mr. and Mrs. J. Murl McCasland of Amarillo.

International Mercury Meet To Study Mariner 10 Data

West Texas State University Geology Professor James Underwood attended the First International Colloquium on Mercury June 25-27 at the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena, California.

"This will be the first chance for the scientists to interchange ideas on the data obtained by Mariner 10, which made three fly-bys of the planet," Underwood said.

For the last three years the West Texas State professor has been involved in the Mars mapping project, with his section of the planet being selected for the B landing site on July 4, 1976. Underwood was also named to the Mercury mapping team, with his work scheduled to begin this summer and end in a year.

"There are more similarities between the Moon and Mercury than Mars and Mercury," Underwood observed. "Mercury has no atmosphere, and there is no indication that it has ever had any kind of surface alteration process operating other than impact."

The purpose of the Mercury meeting was to focus scientific attention on the data obtained from the Mariner 10 fly-bys and other Earth-based observations and to evaluate them with regard to theoretical speculations concerning the origin and evolution of Mercury and the terrestrial planets.

Colloquium sessions topics included Nature of the Surface and Crust, Surface History, Dynamical History, Formational Processes and Thermal Evolution and Implications for other Terrestrial Planets.

The colloquium is being sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the International Astronomical Union, the American Astronomical Society and the American Geophysical Union.

Canyon Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls are getting instructions from Genelle Bourland and Mary Parker and picking up the questionnaires in their project to assist the Women's Chamber of Commerce in their "Community Attitude Survey." Canyon Boy Scouts will also assist in the Tuesday distribution of the questionnaires to each home in Canyon. The Scouts and Camp fire Girls will meet at the Girl Scout House Tuesday morning at 9 a.m. to begin distribution. The questionnaires are to be returned to either the Towne Shop, First National Bank, West Texas State bank, the Merle Norman shop, or Dan's 5th Ave. store.

Two members of the WT Swim Club were recognized recently by the A.A.U. Swimming Committee as the most outstanding male and female swimmers on their team. Recognized were Beth Sawvell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Sawvell, and Nicky Coleman, son of Dr. and Mrs. Jay M. Coleman. "The award was based on hard work and demonstrating the most improvement," Bruce Bove, WT swim coach said.

"TEXAS" Attracts Special Guests

Every summer the musical drama "TEXAS" attracts distinguished patrons and participants of the arts and this year is no exception.

The author of the drama depicting Panhandle history, Paul Green, attended the gala opening night June 18th. The opening marked the tenth anniversary of the production set in the Palo Duro Canyon amphitheatre. Green was accompanied by his research assistant Mrs. Earl Wynn. The author participated in founders' ceremonies prior to the performance. The Honorable Bob Simpson of the Texas House of Representatives was on hand to present Green with a copy of House Concurrent Resolution No. 115 making June 18th "TEXAS" day.

Pay a return visit to Canyon for opening night was British actress Patricia Montrose. Two years ago, Mrs. Montrose spent a week with the "TEXAS" staff as part of a three month study tour for her Churchill Fellowship.

Two staff members of Green's newest outdoor theatre production also attended the gala opening. Charles Park, business manager of the new Louisiana drama "Louisiana Cavalier," came to the Canyon along with Bob Buseick, director of the Centenary College (Shreveport) production of "1776." "Louisiana Cavalier" is in preparation at Natchitoches.

The backers of the West Texas State University President's Club will be treated to the musical drama June 24th following a dinner hosted by WTSU President Lloyd Watkins. Another honored guest for that evening will be Norman Nadel, entertainment editor of the Scripps-Howard newspaper chain.

The producer and writer of outdoor theatre productions in West Virginia will be "TEXAS" guests June 26th. Ewell Cornett, producer of "The Hatfields and the McCoys" and "Honey in the Rock," and author Billy Edd Wheeler will attend the musical drama.

Memories of ten years of "TEXAS" productions will be the theme June 27th when former staff members reunite. The members will be treated to dinner, the 1975 production and a following dance.

Participants of a travel writers tour of the Texas Panhandle will attend the show June 28th. The group is sponsored by the Texas Tourist Development Agency. The journalists represent the Abilene Reporter-News, the Texas Highway Department, Southern Living Magazine, Newsport News, Virginia newspapers, Motor Club News, Springfield (Missouri) News and Leader, Chicago Sun Times, The Houston Post, The Wichita Eagle and Beacon, the San Angelo Standard Times and the Amarillo Globe-News.

The musical drama "TEXAS" will run through August 23rd nightly except for Sundays. Guests are urged to make reservations in advance through the box office, Box 263, Canyon, Texas, 79015, and the phone number is 806-655-2182.

Grandson Relives Life In "TEXAS"

Two members of the distinguished Red Fox family will be in the public eye this 4th of July. One is 105 year old Chief William Red Fox, movie actor, rider with Buffalo Bill and author. He will be on Tom Snyder's all night 4th of July "Tomorrow" show, discussing a dimension of American life unknown to most other people.

The second is John Red Fox, his grandson, who is playing the part of an aged Indian in the story of the Texas Panhandle, the musical drama by Paul Green, which runs all summer in the magnificent Palo Duro Canyon near Amarillo and Canyon, Texas.

Basing his interpretation on his study of his grandfather, John Red Fox gives a moving presentation of the impact of the old on the young, and of the Indians on the Whites who moved onto Indian land.

John Red Fox is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Red Fox Jr. of Corpus Christi. He has attended Del Mar Junior College and Minor Seminary in Corpus and is presently a student at Columbia College in Columbia, Missouri where he has appeared in many productions.

To see the grandson reliving the life of his grandfather in a key moment in the swirl of Panhandle life pictured in "Texas," write "TEXAS" Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or call 806-655-2182 for tickets.

Pioneers Club Holds Meeting

Canyon's Social Pioneers Club met Thursday, June 26, at the home of the president, Mrs. Rae Walters, to discuss final plans for a joint picnic to be held September 25 at the Girl Scout House with membership from the Social Pioneers Club, Palo Duro Mother-in-Law Club and the Canyon Mother-in-Law Club to attend.

At Thursday's meeting, the Social Pioneers Club had a devotional presented by Roxie Hammons on "Christ As Light Of The World." The club also sent cards to the sick.

Co-hostesses aiding Mrs. Walters were Mrs. Jewell Marshall, Roxie Hammons and Mrs. John Hilgenfeld.

Other members attending were Mesdames J.N. Seay, Guy Ford, Gladys Blair, Jeannette Robbins, C.W. Dunn, Eva Curb, R.E. White and Beryl Hixson.

Ryders Girl Born In City

Mr. and Mrs. Peter H. Ryder of 3110 S. Woodland, Amarillo announce the June 28 birth of a daughter, Lisa Jo, who arrived at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The baby weighed 7 pounds, 8½ ounces and measured 19½ inches at birth.

The infant has a brother, Tommy, age 3, and the father is a meatcutter in Amarillo.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William A. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Ryder, all of Amarillo.

County Youth Participating At 4-H Labs

Larry Hales is representing Randall County at District Leadership Labs at Texas State Technical Institute in Amarillo this week.

Larry is among 175 young leaders from 4-H clubs in 20 High Plains counties participating in the lab. A team of 12 older teens are assisting with sessions throughout the lab.

The youths are being supervised by 4-H adult leaders and agents and are performing a variety of activities ranging from group learning and discussion sessions to game tournaments and other activities geared toward helping the young leaders learn to express themselves and their ideas and develop solutions to problems through group effort.

Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jones Hales of Randall County. Paul Gross and Mrs. Sue Farris, district Extension agents of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, are in charge of the leadership lab sessions.

Brotherton Gets Medal

Army Sergeant Robert B. Brotherton Jr., 22, whose parents live at 2413 10th Ave., Canyon, was presented the Good Conduct Medal here.

The medal, established in 1941, is awarded on a selective basis for those who distinguish themselves from among their fellow military personnel through exemplary conduct, efficiency and fidelity during their active military service.

Sgt. Brotherton received the award while assigned as a clerk in the 3rd Infantry Division.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Swisher Electric Cooperative, Inc., S.W. 2nd Street in Tulia, Texas is pleased to announce that it has made an application for a loan from the Rural Electrification Administration which will provide for the construction of about seven (7) miles, of 69,000 volt transmission line. This line will be located in portions of NE Swisher and SE Randall Counties. There is also planned a substation to be built that will be served from this line.

These facilities, alone with other low voltage distribution lines will make it possible for the Cooperative to improve service and to provide additional capacity when needed to those existing services now being served in the area and new consumers as required.

If there are any comments on the environmental aspect of the proposed construction they should be submitted in writing to the Cooperative either at its office in Tulia or to P.O. Box 67 Tulia, Texas 79088, within thirty (30) days of the publication of this notice. Additional information may be obtained at the Cooperative's office at the above address.

School . . .

build schools east of the expressway as needed while allowing Amarillo to provide schools to the west north of Hollywood.

"We've got to have schools now as soon as we can get them," Board President Tom Keeling told Lair. "Even without some of that enrollment, we have to have them."

Keeling contended that because of an enrollment bulge on every Canyon campus, new schools will be needed whether Amarillo annexes more land to the southwest or not. And, he said, it is probable that even were Amarillo allowed to annex more property the size schools now being planned would still be required.

Keeling and Supt. Jerry Jacobs said the local board has indicated to the Amarillo board an interest in trading land north and west of the Hollywood Road and Canyon Expressway intersection for property around Tradewinds Airport west of Polk Street in Amarillo. They said they have been rebuffed in their efforts.

Keeling said the local board would not turn down an invitation by the Amarillo board to discuss the possibility of a trade or other business arrangement for the land.

Following Lair's presentation, the board appointed members of three committees, committees which will study the need for two new schools — an elementary school and a high school — for the district, the financing of such schools, and publicity on what the committees are doing.

For more than a year, the board has been charting a course toward a bond issue next fall to finance construction of the two schools. Tentative plans call for a high school to be built on a 60-acre tract on Hollywood Road west of the Canyon expressway. No definite site has been selected for the construction of the elementary school.

The board also accepted the deed to a 10-acre elementary school site in Hunsley Hills during the meeting.

The late Arch Hunsley, original developer of the subdivision, had given the school district a 15-year option on the land, an option the board cashed in Tuesday night.

Board members also viewed a film produced for and about the Mesquite School District. The film was employed in a bond issue campaign in that district recently and proved successful.

Those appointed to committees include:

TEXAS TALK

By Tom Lytle

Sorghum planted in a field of plastic? That's one of the possibilities being studied by research groups now taking a hard look at a variety of water conservation programs. Experiments have actually been done in the Oklahoma Panhandle whereby plots were covered by large plastic sheets . . . holes cut in the plastic for the plants and irrigation water supplied under the plastic. Results . . . less than half the normal water required. Costs . . . terrible. So the search goes on with new attention focused on special breeding for water retention and imroved plant utilization. Tests at Oklahoma State University reportedly indicated that as much as 2 inches of water a year can be saved by planting sorghum in rows running north and south rather than east to west. Direction of rows, spacing of furrows and development of new breeds are all subjects the sorghum producer will be hearing a lot more about . . . especially if the weather forecasters are right.

Judges To Recommend Financing Changes

Randall County's two district judges have initiated a recommendation for changes in the county's internal financial system, The News learned last week.

Dist. Judge George Dowlen said he and Dist. Judge Bryan Poff have asked Bill Francis of the outside auditing firm of Doshier, Francis and Pickens to work up a recommendation which they will jointly sign for presentation to commissioners court.

If accepted by commissioners, the recomendations are expected to end a six-month feud between commissioners and County Treasurer Robert McClendon.

Dowlen said he and Poff asked Francis to work up a recommendation to "indicate what would be required to do what the commissioners indicated they want done."

Commissioners recently instructed McClendon to begin keeping the ledger books for the county. McClendon declined to accept the duties, saying the additional work would require an additional worker in his office.

Francis had recommended to commissioners that County Auditor Betty Hodges, who said she met last week to discuss the problem with the district judges, become strictly an internal auditor on the county's books and financial operations while the bookkeeping function was turned completely over to McClendon.

McClendon, who was elected last November and took office in January on a platform promising to try to abolish his office, refused to take over the other responsibilities, saying he now pays for an office worker largely out of his own pocket and cannot afford another one unless the worker is paid by the county.

The district judges, under the state constitution, are empowered to hire and set the salary and duties of the county auditor.

Judgment Entered In Suit

Dist. Judge Bryan Poff issued Monday, a summary judgment finding for the defendants in a resolution of a portion of a $1.5 million lawsuit filed by Happy Wheat Growers last summer in the wake of the bankruptcy of their cattle feeding operation north of Happy.

The judgment returned Monday by Poff worked to settle allegations by the wheat growers that the defendants had failed to pay about $600,000 worth of notes and checks for cattle, feed, and medicine.

Defendants in the suit, the largest of several filed shortly after the Happy Wheat Growers Feedyard went out of operation in May 1974, are Flynn W. Stewart, Roland Stewart, James Stewart, Bowie Service Corporation, Wayne Bedwell and Jerry Hayes.

The summary judgment issued Monday does not settle the remainder of the suit, in which Happy Wheat Growers charge that the defendants conspired to defraud the firm.

The portion of the suit settled by the judgment contended that the defendants had given Happy Wheat Growers notes totalling about $300,000 and had failed to pay the notes.

Poff said the attorneys for the plaintiffs in the case failed to present evidence at a Monday hearing to confirm that the notes had not been paid.

The original petition also alleged that the defendants had given checks for about $300,000, checks which banks would subsequently not pay.

Poff said the plaintiffs also failed to present evidence backing up that allegation.

Retained in the suit are plaintiff allegations that the defendants failed to pay $118,000 for feed, medicine and supplies for cattle housed in the Happy feedyards, and that Bedwell and Hayes conspired together with the other defendants to defraud the firm by maintaining false records and books and making false entries on the books.

Also retained in the suit are plaintiff allegations that in early 1973, the defendants conspired together to "injure the plaintiff" by converting funds owned and held by the plaintiff in its bank accounts.

The suit alleges that Bedwell and Hayes drew checks on accounts of Happy Wheat Growers and payable to the defendants and that Hayes and Bedwell knew the defendants were not entitled to the checks.

Bedwell and Hayes, the suit alleges, "concealed by incorrect and misleading accounting entries in the books of plaintiff the true nature of said checks."

Further, the suit alleges the defendants made false records on cattle deaths.

Several other lawsuits have arisen out of the closing down of the feedyard.

The feedyard was sold last spring and is now in operation under the name of Lone Star Feeders.

At one time, the feedyard had as many as 25,000 head of cattle.

Pond said the program might prove to be a boon for elderly persons in Canyon who are living on social security payments and finding it difficult to make ends meet.

Weldon Trice, president of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, said there is apparently a need for rent subsidies for married student housing in the city.

Trice chaired a panel last spring to discuss with several married students at West Texas State University the possibility of providing more low-rent housing in Canyon.

"We're hurting for housing," he said. "There are no vacant houses for rent and all the apartments are rented for the fall."

WTSU Repair Estimate Totals $390,000 On Fire

West Texas State University administrators will ask Gov. Dolph Briscoe to allocate about $400,000 in emergency funds to refurbish firedamaged areas of the old administration building and to provide fire safety equipment for the structure.

Hermas Miller, financial vice president, said tentative figures prepared in his office indicate it will cost about $385,000 to repair the damage caused the building two weeks ago by a fire and to provide a full water sprinkler system and fire escapes to make the building safer.

He said it may be next week before the final figures are passed on to the governor's office for an emergency allocation consideration.

Miller said he doubts the governor will allocate that much money for refurbishing the building and making it more safe.

However, he said he will ask that the governor allocate what he can from his 1974 emergency funding budget for the project and then allocate the remainder when the state's fiscal year begins in September.

The governor is appropriated $500,000 annually by the legislature for emergency allocations.

The basement area of the old administration building was burned by a fire about 2 a.m. June 23. The telephone system was knocked out and other extensive damage was caused.

The beef for the meal was furnished to the chamber by the First National Bank and West Texas State Bank. About 1000 pounds of beef will be served at the serving line.

While the barbecue is being served, various local clubs and groups will begin setting up their special bicentennial exhibits in the tree area on the northwest corner of the park.

Fifteen exhibits are to be erected to display a bit of the history of the Panhandle.

The Canyon Study Club will have and exhibit depicting games for children and adults in the early days of settlement here.

The Jowell 4-H Club will provide an exhibit showing how to use a wash-board to wash cloths. Another club exhibit will set an early-day kitchen table.

The Heritage Woman's Club will sponsor a quilting and embroidery exhibit and will sell quilt blocks with family names for a quilt to go into the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum.

The Association of University Women and the Canyon Classroom Teachers Association will sponsor an early-day classroom scene.

Margaret McCampbell, West Texas State University art teacher, will make pottery as part of the exhibits.

Beth Nelson will weave on a four-heddle loom.

The Take-Off-Pounds-Sensibly Club will sponsor an exhibit in which they will make and sell beef jerky.

Another home demonstration club will make soap and will hold a drawing for homemade soap bars.

The University Study Club will make butter in another exhibit.

The Canyon Dames will illustrate Indian-style beading.

The Sue Hite Club will sell lemonade and cookies.

The Canyon Rotary Club will have horses and a horse-shoeing exhibit.

Wives, Etc., will exhibit writing with a quill pen.

The Canyon Capers Square Dance Club is expected to square dance in one exhibit area.

The exhibits will be open from 6 to 8 p.m.

On the other side of the park, local traders will be conducting an open-air flea market or Traders' Fair on the northeast corner of the lot.

A $5 fee will be charged by the bicentennial committee for those wishing to trade in the flea market. Traders must bring their own tables and chairs and may set up their trading posts after 3 p.m. Funds collected from the fees will pay for prizes for various contests planned by the bicentennial committee during the next school year.

At 9 p.m. on the swimming pool lot at the southeast corner of the park, a community dance will be sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

The Ten-High Dance Band will play for the dance, which will go on until midnight. Tickets will be $2 for individuals and $3 for couples.

The chamber will cap the day's events about 9:30 p.m. with a fireworks display just west of the park. H.R. Fulton Jr. will set off the fireworks.

One event which has traditionally been held with the chamber's activities, the World Championship Pony Express Races, will not be held this year by the Randall County Sheriff's Posse. The Posse will host a junior rodeo on July 12 instead of the pony express races.

Golf Tournies Set At Hunsley

Throughout the summer, a nine-hole Florida Scramble golf tournament will be held every Thursday on the Hunsley Hills golf course. The weekly tournaments began two weeks ago.

Play is open to club members as well as non-members. Entry fee for each tournament is $2 with all entry money going toward the purchase of prizes.

Tee off time for the Thursday tourneys is between 4:30 and 5:30 p.m.

The tournaments are for both men and women. Teams are made up of three or four persons depending on how many are participating.

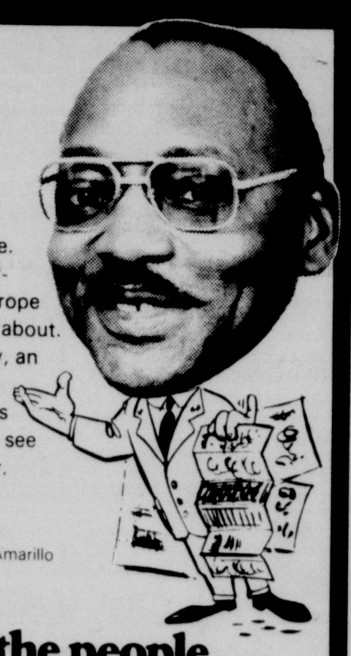
The tournament is based on the selective best ball.

Persons interested should call the course at 655-4000 before 4 p.m. on Thursdays to sign up for the day's play and also furnish handicap information.

Gift certificates will be awarded each week to the winners.

Merrell Long and young children, Billy, 4, and Allison, 20 months, visited early in the week with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller and Marvin Long in Canyon, before returning to her home in Belleville, Illinois after a two-week holiday.

He wants to help you tour Europe.



Before you enlist, you can select your station from a long list of Army installations ... here and abroad. Right now, Germany is available. You have the opportunity to see the Europe that tourists dream about. This, plus good pay, an interesting job and lots of other benefits are good reasons to see your Army recruiter.

Parksters Enjoy Swimming As Summer 'Cool off'

By DORIS MCKEE

JUNE HAS PASSED us by one more year and we are into summer time now.

The park residents are really enjoying the swimming pool. It is a great way to cool off after a hard days work.

SPEAKING OF WORK, the past two weeks, I have had the run of the park office. I tried my best to not make too big a mess of things.

While I got up and went to the office each morning, Mrs. Ruby (Granny) Huddleston was truly enjoying herself down in southeast Texas. She attended the golf tournament at Silsbee, Texas where she had a very nice and enjoyable time.

She also visited friends and relatives in Weatherford and Baytown, Texas.

WE WISH TO express our deepest sympathy to the Walter Warner family of 267 Loma Linda, due to the death of Walter's father, Mr. H. T. Warner of Clarendon. The funeral was on Thursday June 26th.

WE HAVE SEVERAL new families we want to extend a welcome to. Alice, Danny and Annette Pope of 222 La Fiesta, they came here from Spearman. Geneva Ray and family at 212 La Fiesta. Oren and June Cooley and family at 138 Siesta Lane. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Robinson and son at 202 La Fiesta. Pat and Cindy Stockton, and baby at 151 Siesta Lane. Patrick D. and Mary Campbell and son, A. J., at 215 Loma Linda, they came from Dalhart.

And over in Ownersville, we welcome Mr. and Mrs. Brad Stewart and family who have bought and moved onto the lot at 130 La Fiesta.

We hope each and everyone of you will be happy here at Siesta.

MR. AND MRS. Mallory Nolan and family, who lived at 151 Siesta Lane left us this past week. Mallory was hurt on his job and not having family here to help out, moved back to Dallas.

Mrs. Nolan said she really did like it here and hated that their stay was so short. We wish them the very best.

MICKEY AND CHARLOTTE Shipman and son of 263 La Fiesta left us this past week going to a ranch about 20 miles past Wichita Falls, Texas. We wish them luck at ranch life.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. T. C. Weatherly of 108 Siesta Lane have recently returned from a vacation in Arkansas.

* * *

SEEMS VERA HUDDLESTON had a misunderstanding with her horse last week. She was riding and the horse lost his footing and fell.

The horse fell on her ankle and now Vera is walking around with a big cast. For several days she was getting around on crutches. We wish her a speedy recovery.

CHERI RISNER AND Barry Henson have set July 19th as their wedding date. They will be married at Grace Baptist Church in Canyon.

Cheri is the daughter of Peck and Faye Risner of 137 La Fiesta and Barry's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ken Henson of Amarillo.

SEEMS SUE WOODS entered her Whippet's in a dog show last week and came home with several new ribbons.

Sue really works with her dogs and they always show well. Congratulations Sue.

FAYE AND FELTON Conner and daughters Rene, Diane and Susie went to Brady, Texas on June 21st to attend a family reunion. It was the Glenn family reunion (this is on Felton's grandmother's side of the family). It was held in the Brady Community Center and was a two day affair.

Faye estimated some two hundred people attended. She said there was lots of visiting and gobs of food.

After the reunion the Conners visited friends and relatives in Junction and then went to Faye's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Keese in Mason, Texas. Rene and Diane stayed on with their grandparents, when Felton, Faye and Susie came home. They also stopped in Brownwood to visit Faye's grandmother, Mrs. Bess Harmon. Faye said it was a very good trip.

ALBERT AND KATIE Rinne went to Slaton last Friday afternoon. Seemed they had a family get together going there.

Everyone met at Katie's brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wicker, Jr. on Friday night.

Others attending were Davia and Kathy Rinne of Siesta, Joe, Sr. and Lorene Wicker, Robin, Hody, Emily Jo and Eric Porterfield and Kenna, Victor, Jeffrey and Julie Eckert all of Slaton. Debbie and Kim Marriott of Austin and Berry Wicker who is in the service and stationed in Colorado were also there.

Katie said it was a great get together. An Uncle of her's, Clarence Heaton of Slaton, brought over some movies that were taken quite a few years back and showed them. Everyone really enjoyed this.

On Saturday Albert, Katie, Davia and Kathy went to Wilson, Texas to visit Albert's folks, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Rinne. Albert and Katie left to come home after lunch Sunday. Davia and Kathy stayed behind to spend a few days with their grandparents.

HUGH ROWLEY (UNCLE Skinny) made a trip home to Hooker, Oklahoma again this week end. Seems the apricot trees were loaded and ripe, so he went to pick apricots.

TALKED TO KATHY Burgan Monday. Her sister Debbie Grigsby of Garland, Texas had been here visiting. On Thursday night, June 26th the Burgan's made a freezer of ice cream and Debbie was there, along with Ira's mother Mrs. Jerry Burgan.

* * *

OH YES, FAYE Conner is bowling in a summer league. Last week she bowled a 212. She said it was her first. Congratulations, Faye.

* * *

JAMES, SHARON, SHANNON, Randy and Toni Jones were on vacation last week. They spent the week camping out in Creede, Colorado. Sharon's folks Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Newman of Hereford and Sharon's brother and wife, Pat and Debbie Newman of Amarillo were also there on vacation.

They all enjoyed hiking, fishing and riding motor cycles. Seems James, Sharon, Debbie and Pat made a 70 mile cycle ride one day.

Sharon said they only had a couple of accidents. Randy fell and bruised his hip one day and on Saturday before they were to leave for home Sharon dropped her cycle on her foot. The kick stand hit her big toe. She said it sure does smart.

ON FRIDAY NIGHT, myself and my mother, Ethel Weaver, along with several other parents from the park attended the commencement program at Lamount Drive Baptist Chapel. This was held for all the children who had attended Bible School there all week. Each class gave a program and each child received a certificate. We visited the classrooms and picked up what the children had made. Refreshments were served. It was a very, very nice event.

We had several children from the park attend. DeAnn McKee, Barbie and P. L. Parault, Guy Qualls, Roger Robertson, Michael and Julie Woods, Adam Ramariz three children and a few others, really seemed to enjoy the week.

* * *

OH YES, IF you would like for your children to go to Sunday School and Church, and yourself also, the bus from Lamount Drive Baptist Chapel will run each Sunday. It will pick up here in the park at the recreation building at 9:00 a.m. and return here about 12:35 p.m.

If you don't attend church somewhere else, they would love for you to go with them.

MY SON, TOD, has been in Midwest City, Oklahoma for the past two weeks visiting the Maurice Clarks. He had a great time. They went to the zoo one day and another day they went to Crossroads Mall. It is the second largest mall in the U. S., I believe.

Also they went to the circus and Tod and Johnny did a lot of crawdad fishing. On Saturday, June 28th Mary Clark and daughter, Jeannie, and son, Tony, brought Tod home. We enjoyed their visit, but it was very short. Maurice and Johnny were unable to come.

OH YES, I guess I'll mention the fact that my husband, Royce decided, I needed something new to drive. He went down this past week and bought me a beautiful dark green metallic Chevrolet Impala. Man, it's a real dream.

* * *

GUESS IT'S TIME to sign off for this week, so until next time, Keep on Reading.

Thought for this week, "Kindness is a necessity, Understanding is a must, Respect rates very high, be sure to throw in lots of Trust."

See ya.

Wheat Harvest Underway

By REBA RAEF

THE WHEAT HARVEST around here is still not finished.

We have been lucky, though, as we have not had much hail or wind damage.

We drove over to the Ford community Sunday, where Barnard was cutting and there were combines running everywhere. The maize looks good and we saw several fields of sun flowers. The pastures are greening up real well, too.

* * *

OUR CONGRATULATIONS TO Debbie and Elaine Ramaekers and Patricia Grabber, who were on the Dean's honor roll at West Texas State University.

Elaine, a freshman, is an elementary educational major; Debbie, a sophomore, is a social work major and Patricia, a freshman, is a keyboard music major.

GET WELL WISHES to grandson, David Hartman, who had his tonsils out last Friday, at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

HAZEL FRIEMEL IS up and about again, after having been hospitalized in Palo Duro Hospital last week.

TOM IS OVER from Clovis, to spend the Fourth of July holiday with us. We are planning a picnic for that day.

The Don Gerber's came from Claude Sunday, to pick up their children, Julie and Tisha Lyn, who had spent a week with their grandparents, Bill and Frances Gerber. They let Billy and Jeana spend this week with Bill and Frances.

Also visiting the Gerbers over Saturday were Kenny and LaNetta Gouel, both from Dalhart.

BELATED "HAPPY BIRTHDAY" wishes to granddaughters, Michelle Raef, of Amarillo and Linda Hartman, of Umbarger. Michelle was ten on June 26th and Linda was seventeen on June 29th.

OUR PASTOR, MSGR. M. F. Schafle has a new camper trailer and he tried it out last week, down in Palo Duro Canyon.

MRS. A.C. EVERS had a party for her mother, Mrs. Clara Hess from Springdale, Ark. last week.

Guests were nieces of Mrs. Hess and included Elsie Batenhorst, Della Friemel, Margaret Friemel, Rose Hoffman, Rose Liekhus, Lois Stocker, Dale Bolte, Polly Haschke, Christine Wilhelm, Ola Wieck and friends, Mary Louise Pianlto and Emma Brandt.

After an afternoon of visiting, refreshments of cake, coffee and tea were served by the hostess, Mrs. Evers.

MRS. LAURA HARTMAN has a house full of company. Her sister, Pearl Freeman and Pearl's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Freeman, and Laura's niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Easterly, all from Greenville, Tenn.; and another niece, Mrs. Emma Mae Fox, of Newport, Tenn. are here.

Last Monday, Laura took them to Clovis, as they wanted to go into New Mexico. On Tuesday evening, they all went to see the production of "Texas," in Palo Duro Canyon. They will be here till Sunday.

KATHLEEN AND THERESA Hughes, daughters of Mrs. Betty Hughes of Phoenix, Ariz., are spending the summer with their grandparents, the Henry Bracht's. Betty brought them over last Friday and returned home on Sunday.

TEX AND PAT Cumings had company last week. Pat's sister and her husband, Norma and B.L. Johnson and their daughter, Lyn Henderson, and her children, Jason, Chad and Sherri stopped by for a few days.

Pat and Sandy took them to Palo Duro Canyon last Thursday. They thought our canyon was very beautiful. They were enroute to their home in Boiser City, La.

SPEAKING OF THE Fourth, we wish each and everyone a safe and sane holiday.

Family Travels For Summer Fun

Eilean Jones, Ricky and Jimmy of Dubuque, Iowa are presently visiting in Canyon with Mrs. Margaret Kelley after sharing a ten day extended trip to points in South Texas and Old Mexico.

Traveling by camper van, Mrs. Kelley met the Jones family at Austin where they were joined by a friend, Patty Henge, along with Mrs. Kelley's son, Paul, and his friends, Gary Unger and Mark Paule.

The group spent time at South Padre Island before crossing into Old Mexico at Brownsville. After camping and sightseeing stops at Victoria, Monterrey and Saltillo, they re-entered Texas at Laredo.

"We had fun swimming in the Gulf of Mexico and enjoyed the sights of the banana palm trees lining the roadsides in Victoria," noted Mrs. Kelley.

Two City Girls At Ball Camp

Two Canyon girls have completed their stay at the Wayland Flying Queens Basketball Camp held in Plainview June 15-21.

Deanna Campbell, 15, daughter of Mrs. Jo Finney, 1818 3rd Ave. and Jami Martin, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buell Martin who live southwest of the city, earned honors at the week-long camp.

Both girls earned certificates as being two out of the top three ball handlers at the camp.

Miss Campbell also given a certificate for being one of the top three dribblers. Miss Martin was also named as the best offensive guard at the camp.

Miss Campbell and Miss Martin were selected to be on the senior division all-star team. Approximately 140 girls from across the area attended the basketball camp.

A DRUG FOR ALL SEASONS

Where would we be without aspirin? Surely it is the all time number one miracle drug. It is still used for so many medical problems both big and small. And yet, because it is so commonly used we tend to forget one simple fact. It can also be a killer.

There are more fatal accidents involving aspirin than any other drug. And, most sadly, it usually involves small children. You can help change this! Please don't take aspirin for granted. Treat it even more carefully than you would any other potentially dangerous substance.

'Man's World' Opens To Females

Some might say it's a man's world, but two West Texas State University students are proving there is room for women out there in that mad, workaday world.

Melanie Hood and Jamie Dillard are involved with the hustle and bustle of wheat harvest as employees at the Ralph Switch elevator.

Miss Hood, 20, from Midland, and Miss Dillard, 23, from Ringling, Okla. are both juniors at WT and are majoring in animal science.

The two coeds are responsible for weighing the incoming and outgoing trucks as well as testing each truckload of wheat for moisture content.

With an average of over 100 truck loads arriving daily over the past week, Miss Hood and Miss Dillard have been kept busy to say the least.

"Our day begins around 6 a.m. and usually doesn't end until 1 or 2 a.m. the next morning," Miss Dillard said. Both women have class at 7:30 a.m. and go until noon. From school, Miss Dillard and Miss Hood travel the 12 miles south to the elevator and begin their twelve-hour workday.

"Destitution had set in," they said laughingly as the reason for the need of a job. The two went to a Canyon cattle company in search of jobs and were told of possible opportunities in the wheat harvest.

Miss Dillard and Miss Hood then approached Consumer's Fuel Association and, after being okayed by the board of directors, were hired.

Both women have agricultural backgrounds but this is their first experience with the wheat harvest. "I've been around livestock most of my life and working with the wheat harvest is really an experience," Miss Dillard said.

In addition to their duties in the scale room, the two have cleaned barns and helped in moving sacks of seed. "They handled those 50-pound sacks of seed just like the men," Wes Bourn, Co-op manager said. "Those two are good, eager workers," he added.

The work of Miss Dillard and Miss Hood has also impressed Jim Burgan, manager of the elevator at Ralph Switch. "They're wonderful help. There will be a job waiting for them when maize harvest begins," he said.

The coeds meet with quite a bit of teasing and kidding from the male truck drivers as they pull in with a load of wheat. But, the two come back with as much and, most of the time more, teasing and kidding of their own.

"All the men have been just super nice and we are really enjoying meeting and being around them," Miss Hood said. "I guess you could say we have boyfriends ranging from 3½ to 83 years old," Miss Dillard added.

To the male patrons of the elevator, Miss Hood and Miss Dillard are known as "the boys." "One lady came in and jerked my hat off and said, you are a girl!" Miss Dillard said.

No job is without its drawbacks and the two working students have experienced a few. "I've been on top of trucks that have taken off while I was still on top. It's a little shaky when you're up there about three stories and all of a sudden you start moving," Miss Hood said.

In the high winds the area has had this week, tarped trucks have proved a hazard to Miss Dillard. She related a few instances when the wind caught the tarp as she was rolling it up and resulting in almost knocking her off the truck.

But, through it all the duo sticks with it.

A person might think that going to school and putting in twelve hours a day would be more than enough, but to Miss Hood and Miss Dillard, there is still enough time left over to squeeze in another job.

Besides school work and the elevator, the dynamic duo finds time to clean the Randall County Farm Bureau three nights a week.

Asked when they had time for studying and socializing, they said studying came between wheat trucks and as far as their social life was concerned, the two laughed and said "we used to be girls and date and look pretty and have boyfriends and all of that."

One of the duties of Jamie Dillard at the Ralph Switch elevator is rolling tarps off trucks loaded down with wheat. This can be a hazardous job with the high winds whipping around the elevator.

The Garden Spot

By RICK WILCOX

Squashes are quickly becoming one of America's most popular vegetables. They are easy to grow, prompt and prolific producers, and can be prepared in a number of delicious ways. There are enough varieties to keep the most avid gardener experimenting happily for years. Because of their love of the sun, squashes are ideally suited to the hot southwest, and were long an Indian staple before the white man ever heard of them. The squash blossom, a beautiful bloom foretelling a happy harvest, is a traditional subject of southwest Indian art.

With 2 "Do's" and one "Don't," you should have almost no trouble with squashes. DO prepare the planting site well with dried manure and bone meal and fertilize again when the blossoms appear. DO water deeply and regularly. DON'T allow the leaves to remain wet overnight. Being adapted to dry climates, the squash is susceptible to leaf disease if left wet too long.

Many summer squashes, especially yellow crook — or straight-neck and any of the zucchinis, will produce in 60 days or less, so it isn't too late to start now. Dig a good hole, spading in manure and bone meal (and a handful of wood ashes if you have them). Plant 3 or 4 seeds per "hill" and space the hills several feet apart. Three hills will produce all the squash the average family is likely to need. Water well until the seeds germinate, usually in about a week. A board or burlap sack over the hill until the seeds break through will help keep the planting site moist for good germination.

Water regularly, preferably by soaking the ground at the base of the plants. Supplemental fertilizing when the blossoms appear can be done by mulching with dried manure or watering with manure "tea," fish fertilizer or seaweed fertilizer.

With help from bees and butterflies, pollination of the blossoms should be no problem. Unfortunately, large scale spraying in our area has badly reduced the number of these beneficial insects. If you find your small squash fruits withering after a few days, failure of pollination is probably the cause. Try hand-pollinating. Using a Q-Tip, transfer pollen from the male blossoms (they have a solid central core) to the projections in the center of the female blossoms on the ends of the small fruits. Pollinating every morning as the female blossoms open should solve the problem.

Your only other difficulty should be with squash bugs. Marigolds and nasturtiums planted close around the hills will help repel some. Crushing the egg clusters, which are usually located in the V's formed by the veins on the undersides of the leaves, will keep things from getting out of hand. And spraying with a mixture of 20 parts water to one part garlic juice will generally kill the newly-hatched small ones. I have heard that squash bugs hate harsh light, and that aluminum foil around the base of the plants to reflect sunlight on the leaf undersides will discourage them. I haven't tried this, but if you do, let us know how it works. And by the way, the bugs seem to much prefer yellow squash to zucchini if they have a choice. Using the yellow squash as trap plants helps to concentrate the bug population for easier control. Until next time. . .

Belief In Hometown Brings Young Man Back

A young man's belief in the future of his former home town has led Dale Lindsey back to Canyon to start one of the city's newest businesses.

Lindsey's Floor Covering opened last week at 1911-C 4th Ave. in the Vaughn Plaza. The week before The Jewelry Store opened for business on the north side of the Square.

Lindsay's has Marlin, SunGlo and GFI carpet brands of Marlin Mills, Inc. of Marlin, Tex., Sikes and Frontier brands from Frontier Distributor, Inc., of Amarillo, Ludlow and Columbus brands from Stephens Co. and Brinkman carpet. In addition Lindsey's has Armstrong and GAF vinyl floor covering.

Born at Bakersfield, Calif., Lindsey lived on farms and ranches in California and the Texas Panhandle and attended Canyon High School.

"My brother, David, got me interested in the carpet business," Lindsey said. "He is an assistant manager of one of the stores Raby's owns in Albuquerque."

Lindsey started learning the carpet trade at Raby's Carpet Co., one of the largest in New Mexico, and worked there more than a year.

Last year he moved to Amarillo to broaden his carpet experience as a salesman in the carpet department of Woolco Department Store and then branched out as a self-employed carpet installer.

"I enjoyed ranching," Lindsey said, "but as you know the cattle business got slow a few years ago. I'm still a farmboy at heart."

Lindsey also has attended the Armstrong Cork Co.'s installation school, a one-week, 40-hour intensive training program.

Lindsey and his wife, Barbara, have a 21-month-old daughter, Shelda. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russell of north of Canyon and a 1971 graduate of Canyon High. She is studying nursing at Amarillo College.

Lindsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lindsey of Canyon, said he is sold on Canyon as a place to live and raise his daughter.

Freedom Films At City Museum For July Fare

A delightful film on the making of the Declaration of Independence, "1776," will open Bicentennial month at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum's Sunday afternoon movie fare.

The highly entertaining musical will be shown July 5 and 6 at 2:30 p.m. in the second floor lecture room in the main building and stars William Daniels, Howard Da Silva and Ken Howard. Admission is free.

Following "1776" in the Bicentennial Series will be two Walt Disney productions "The Light in the Forest" on July 12 and 13 and "Johnny Tremain" on July 19 and 20. "The Story of a Patriot" will be shown July 26 and 27. Each July film will be shown on Saturday and Sunday at 2:30 p.m. for no charge.

Set in the colorful American frontier of 1764, "The Light in the Forest" stars Fess Parker, James MacArthur and Wendell Corey, and tells the story of a young boy raised by the Delaware Indians who returns to claim his heritage midst prejudiced Yankees.

The ride of Paul Revere, the Boston Tea Party and the battles of Lexington and Concord are recalled in "Johnny Tremain," which stars Hal Stalmaster, Jeff York and Sebastian Cabot. The 80 minute film is a winner of the Parents' Magazine Family Medal Award.

"The Story of a Patriot" is set in colonial Williamsburg, and analyzes the gradual disintergration of the country in the troubled times before the American Revolution.

Couple Back From Canada

Dwayne and Marcia Dennis returned recently from a trip to Montreal, Quebec where they spent time attending the Rotary International Convention. They returned home by way of Williamsburg, Virginia and Mayfield, Kentucky.

Triangles At 'TEXAS'

Winners of the triangle at the performances of "TEXAS" for the week ending June 26th included men from Indonesia, Pakistan, Singapore and Iran.

Capt. A. Basuki of Indonesia won the triangle Friday night, Ali Syed of Pakistan won it Saturday night, Tam Hancock of Singapore won it Tuesday night, and Makeovki K. Capps of Iran won the triangle Thursday night.

Groups visiting the musical drama this past week included church groups from Big Spring, Tex., Hobbs, N.M., Springhill, La., Dalhart and El Paso.

Other groups included travel agents from Florida, tours from Dallas, Perryton, Nocona, Clarendon, Bowie, Beaver, Oklahoma, and Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

Additional groups attending included contributors to the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, Telephone Pioneers, winners of the artist's competition and judges, Texas Junior College Business Managers, and Boy Scouts from Marshall, Tex.

Graveside Rites Held

Graveside services were held at 11 a.m. Tuesday at Dreamland Cemetery for David Ben Simmons, four-week-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Simmons of 1100 8th Ave.

The Rev. Jim Hancock, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated. Burial was under the direction of Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors of Canyon.

The Simmons infant died Saturday at Texas Children's Hospital in Houston. He was born May 30 in Amarillo.

Survivors include the parents, a brother, Gregg Allen of the home; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Allen of Route 1, Canyon, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Simmons of Dickenson, Texas.

Sr. Citizens Meet

Canyon Senior Citizens will conduct a business discussion at 6 p.m. today, July 3, at Canyon Community Center with the weekly covered dish supper for all citizens 55 and up to begin at 7 p.m.

Month's Summer Abroad Study Begins

A 'bon Voyage' party will be held this evening, July 3, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Reeves at 910 25th Street for a local group of students and adults planning departure July 7 for a 28 day tour of five countries abroad.

The study program known as the Panhandle Comparative Cultures Program will include visitation to Spain, Italy, Austria, France and England. The program was organized for Panhandle area students with approval and assistance of the Panhandle Educational Services Organization (PESO) and several students in the program will be earning high school and college credits during the summer project.

The tour is the first of a continuing program including summer travel abroad designed for secondary school students, according to Mrs. Reeves. Canyon-Happy residents totalling 23 will be involved in the summer travel abroad program this year and will depart Amarillo on July 7 with an entourage of 31 Amarillo area residents involved in the Summer Abroad '75 program there.

Advisors for the Canyon-Happy group are Mr. and Mrs. John T. Reeves and Sherry McDowell. School students participating will be Ronnie Jackson and Beverly Dowd of Happy; Anne Reeves, Elizabeth Wheeler and Brenda Wilson of Canyon Junior High School; and David Green, Bruce Kennedy, Lou Ann Irwin, Becky Wallace and Christi Prichard of Canyon High School.

Participating from the Canyon High School staff will be Sara Hard and Gail Albracht, with Elaine Hazelwood and Hollis Ann Hands from Amarillo College, Vicki Lawlis, a recent West Texas State Univerity graduate, and adults including Mrs. Leonard Wilson, Mrs. Norma Lee and Mr. and Mrs. John Gabert.

Baby Girl Born

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Pennington of 320 Yucca in Amarillo announce the birth of a daughter, Jona Denise, on June 12 at Palo Duro Hospital.

The baby weighed 6 pounds, 13 ounces, and measured 19½ inches at birth.

Grandparents of Jona Denise are Mr. and Mrs. W.T. Steele of Santa Rosa, Tex. and Mr. and Mrs. B.R. Pennington of Amarillo, Tex.

Mr. Pennington is a fireman for the City of Amarillo.

Variety Is Summertime Fare For Gene Howelanders

By KAROLYN FARMER

THE GIRL JOCKEY on TV says that "Without variety it's not a horse race." I don't know much about horse races but I do know we've got variety this summer around the Gene Howe area.

A BIG CONGRATULATIONS to Dave Coronado and the Yankee ball team. This past Saturday night the boys played the Twins and won by a score of 18 to 8.

The Yankees won all but one of their games this season and took the championship in the Canyon Pee Wee League.

Hitting home runs in Saturday night's game were Ron Bostick, Greg Coronado, Kevin Wright and Kip Camfield.

Following their final game of the season, the boys and their parents enjoyed a picnic at Conner Park in Canyon. The highlight of the evening was a ball game between the boys and their mothers. Coach Coronado said the score for that game was unknown, but they really had a lot of fun.

The boys on the team presented their team mother, Jessie Coronado, with a flower arrangement in appreciation of her hard work. Dave Coronado gave trophies to each of the boys with the inscription on them, "Yankees, '75 Champs."

Coach Coronado told me that he is really proud of each one of the boys on the team.

PATTY LARAMORE, WHO is a Teacher's Assistant in LLD, at Gene Howe will be moving to Denton as soon as summer school is over.

Patty's husband, Doug, will be going to school at North Texas State in Denton this fall and will be working toward his Doctorate in music. Patty hopes to teach in one of the schools in that area this next year.

She'll certainly be missed by all of us at Gene Howe and we wish both the Laramores much luck in their new home.

I VISITED IN the LLD resource room this week as summer school classes were being held. Ellen Wilson, one of the Gene Howe LLD teachers, very graciously showed me around the room and explained the goals of the LLD program at our school.

Our LLD teachers, Ellen Wilson, Lynn Gill and assistant, Patty Laramore, are dedicated women who really believe in what they are doing. In fact, just the few minutes that I spent visiting the classroom definitely sold me on the LLD program at Gene Howe.

Ellen explained to me that the children enrolled in the class have at least an average or above average IQ. She pointed out that their objective is to help the children in conjunction with their classroom teachers.

In the LLD program the teachers work with the children in perfecting background skills that will help them in their other studies. This includes working on eye skills, working with sounds which will help them in their reading and helping the children learn to organize their lives and their thinking processes.

Often other teachers at Gene Howe will refer children with a specific need to the LLD teachers. For instance, Margie Phillips may notice a child's need for help with his rhythm or the P.E. teacher may point out a child's problem with his coordination.

Ellen Wilson also told me that they are able to determine in the LLD classroom which ways a certain child is able to learn best, whether it be visual, auditory or by touching, and can pass this information on to the child's other teachers.

The LLD resource room is colorful and interesting. One bulletin board features huge, smiling monkeys and the walls are lined with attention-getting pictures.

The equipment in the room includes a tumbling mat and a raised board which the children walk on to perfect their balance. There are lots of brightly colored blocks, sets of cards and "games" which are designed to perfect the sensori-motor skills of the children.

I really wish that every parent in our area would become better acquainted with both the teachers and the LLD program at Gene Howe — it's definitely one more reason to be proud of our school.

MARY JO SMITH and her assistant, Pam Boatright, were also hard at work when I visited the summer school classes this week. The math class was made up of nine children in Grades 2 through 5. During this particular class period the children were working in several groups according to their grade. Some were writing math problems on the board, while others were working at their desks or using the headphones and records.

Mary Jo told me that one of the things the second graders have a particular problem with is learning to count money. So she has a stamp for each denomination of coins which she puts on the top of the child's math paper. If the child gets ten problems correct, the picture of a dime is stamped on the paper. Then the child counts his "money" after his work is completed.

A large bulletin board in the room was decorated with cute Snoopy cut-outs and numbers against a bright orange background. The atmosphere and the children's clothing were informal. But the children were attentive and obviously determined to learn their multiplication tables, etc.

THE FOUNDATION FOR one of the two new portables at Gene Howe has been poured. Mr. Lawless expects the work to be completed on the other building within the next few weeks.

A final decision has not been made as to which classes will be using the four portable buildings this coming fall.

TWO OF OUR favorite people are in local hospitals this week. Ernestine Harp is in Room 330 at Northwest Texas Hospital. She is expected to remain in the hospital for the rest of this week.

Margie Phillips entered Southwest Osteopathic Hospital this past Sunday. She is in Room 210 and will also probably be there for the full week.

We're praying for a complete and speedy recovery for both of these special ladies.

EARL AND EVA Marrs returned last week from an exciting and enlightening trip to Alaska. They, along with Mr. Marrs' mother, flew to Anchorage, Alaska to visit with Floyd Marrs, the brother of Earl.

Mr. and Mrs. Marrs drove from Anchorage to Nome where they stayed at the Nugget Inn, an old vintage gold rush hotel. Mrs. Marrs told me that Nome is a city of 2,003 people (and that's counting everyone who is in the city at anytime during the year). Nome has three miles of paved streets, of which they are very proud.

Mr. and Mrs. Marrs also flew to an Eskimo village called Kotzebue, which is accessible only by plane and sea. Kotzebue is a remote village on the Berring Sea. It has about 900 inhabitants, 85% of which are Eskimos, and the rest are servicemen who are stationed there.

Mrs. Marrs told me that they really enjoyed watching the Eskimo dances, riding in a dog sled and panning for gold. They also saw a whale which had been washed up on the beach and watched the first barge of the year come into the harbor. She explained to me that the village's only source of supplies is from the barges which only come three times a year.

The village of Kotzebue is right on the DEW Line and is only about 100 miles from Russia. Mrs. Marrs also told me that there is no darkness or night there, so they just slept whenever they got tired.

She said their houses were very small one-room huts made out of walrus hides and bones.

Other highlights of the Marrs' trip included eating reindeer steak, visiting the glaciers and flying over Mt. McKinley.

MRS. MARIE MORTON visited in the Pat Tipps home this past weekend. Mrs. Morton lives in Texhoma, Oklahoma and is the mother of Carol Tipps.

GAY AND HOWARD Cochran, Howie and Laura went to Oklahoma City last Saturday to attend the wedding of Howard's niece. Following the wedding, they attended a family reunion of the Cochran clan in Oklahoma.

Last Friday evening Gay and Howard attended Family Night at Camp Don Harrington. Their son Howie, along with the other boys at the week-long camp, participated in the awards presentations and the swimming safety demonstrations for their parents.

ELLEN AND GRADY Wilson, along with their children Melissa, Kevin and Johnny, spent last week camping out at Cimarron Canyon in New Mexico. Joining the Wilsons on their restful vacation were Pam and Tom Jaggers, Steve and Bryan of Canyon.

The group especially enjoyed riding down the Cimarron River on innertubes.

BARBARA AND RICHARD Lanier have a recent addition to their family. Karen Elizabeth was born May 28th. They also have a son, David William, who is four years old.

The Laniers have lived at 7711 Monterey Circle for a little over a year and formerly lived on Arden Road. Richard Lanier is a medical technologist at High Plains Baptist Hospital. Barbara is also a medical technologist, but is now retired following the birth of their newest "little angel."

* * *

GARLAND AND CHRISTY Horton are our new neighbors (sort of). The Hortons lived on Monterey Circle before selling their home and moving to an apartment in Amarillo.

Garland is employed as a civil engineer at Pantex and is also an independent contractor, which accounts for the Hortons' several moves.

Garland and Christy moved into their home at 7915 Santa Fe on June 1st. They have one daughter, Kim, who is five years old and will be in kindergarten at Gene Howe this fall.

They're a very special and talented family, and we're really glad to have them back in the neighborhood.

* * *

CINDY LICKEY AND her son Ronnie have been visiting recently with her parents, Charles and Helen Holcomb. Cindy did her practice teaching at Gene Howe. She and her husband and son now live in Snyder, where Cindy has been teaching in the elementary school for the past three years.

WENDELL AND LINDA Trammell spent this past weekend in Ruidoso, N.M. They went to the races there and Linda said they enjoyed watching both the horses and the people.

As our family was driving near the Trammell home this week, we passed Donnie Trammell riding at full speed on his Shetland pony. We were only going 15 miles an hour and left Donnie in a cloud of dust, but both horse and rider were really making a valiant effort to keep up with us.

RALPH AND JUDY Gibson were among the 55 members of Paramount Baptist Church who recently returned from a witnessing crusade to Korea.

The Gibsons left Amarillo on June 11th. The first two days in Korea were spent in catching up on lost sleep and some sightseeing. Because they had crossed the International Date Line, they had to adjust to the difference in the time.

Ralph told me that Seoul has a population of eight million people and is a very polluted city. There are very few privately owned cars and the streets are jammed with taxis and busses.

The Gibsons were part of a group who stayed in South Seoul. Ninety Korean churches participated in the Baptist sponsored crusade which began on Sunday, June 15th.

Ralph said that it is the custom in Korea to remove one's shoes before entering a building — and it was a custom for which he was not fully prepared. He said everyone got a good laugh out of the holes in his socks.

Ralph and Judy were particularly impressed with the musical ability of the Korean people. They were also amazed at the loads of goods which the many merchants carried on their bicycles and in their carts on the streets of Seoul.

Ralph said he even learned to like some of the unusual food in Korea — such as dried minnows which are eaten whole. The food, he told me, is highly seasoned and the Koreans use a lot of garlic in cooking.

The group of Baptists from America were divided into smaller groups who witnessed and spoke to the people of Seoul at churches, homes and schools.

Ralph told me of one girls' school where 4,000 attended the services and 200 girls made professions of faith in Jesus Christ. During the crusade approximately 10,000 people made professions of faith. Ralph said that the Korean people are really eager to hear the Gospel and to learn more about Christianity.

He also said that he was particularly impressed with the patriotism of the Korean people and the fact that they are very appreciative of America and her people.

After leaving Korea, the group from Amarillo went to Hawaii where they spent two days touring the islands. They stayed in a hotel on Waikiki Beach and visited Pearl Harbor, some of the pineapple fields and several of the scenic beaches.

The group arrived back in Amarillo on June 28th and the Gibsons report that they were all thrilled with the results of the Korean Crusade.

THE 5TH GRADE girls softball team played Paramount last Tuesday night and won by a score of 22 to 10. Melinda Yarbrough hit a home run in that game.

On Friday night they beat Eastridge by 28 to 14. Denise Tennison hit two home runs and Melinda Yarbrough hit one home run in that game.

The team has won all of their 10 games this season. They will play against Olsen Park on Monday, July 7th at the Gene Howe field. And it promises to be an exciting game since the Olsen Park team is also undefeated.

POLLY HANSON, THE daughter of Johnny and Sue Hanson, was one of the winners in the Globe News picture contest this past week.

Polly had entered three color pictures in the contest and received $5 for her winning entry. Her picture is now eligible for the grand prize to be announced at the end of the three week contest.

THE 1ST GRADE boys T-ball team played a game against South Lawn this past Thursday and lost by a close score of 34 to 32. The boys who hit home runs in that game were Greg Cates, Pike Martin and Chad Merritt.

Their next game will be Monday, July 7th at the Gene Howe field.

THE A & S HARDBALL team played a tough game this past week and lost to an undefeated team from Ridgecrest.

On Monday evening, June 30th, the boys and their families enjoyed a picnic and ballgame at the Gene Howe field.

Daughter's Birth Told

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Peel of 13107 Golden Dr. in Amarillo announce the June 26 birth of a daughter, Kathryn Elaine, at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The baby girl weighed 8 pounds, 3½ ounces and measured 20¾ inches at birth and has an older sister, Jennifer Anne, age 4.

The father is a control engineer with Mason and Hanger, Silas Mason Company, Pantex Plant at Amarillo.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Montgomery of Littlefield and Mr. and Mrs. Homer L. Peel of Amherst.

Kennedy's Baby Born On June 26

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Kennedy of 104 N. 28th St., Apt. 35, in Canyon announce the birth of Aaron Lee on June 26 at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The baby weighed 8 pounds 12¾ ounces and measured 21½ inches at birth.

The father is employed at Factory Wear House Outlet in Amarillo.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Nelsen of Bird City, Kan. and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kennedy of Amarillo. The great grandparents include Mrs. Myrtle Kennedy of Wenden, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Morris of Enid, Okla. and Mr. E.P. Nelsen of Bird City, Kan.

Going somewhere? Or been? The Canyon News wants to know about it — and so do its readers.

The A & S team recently participated in the campaign by the YMCA to raise money for the hardball program. Kenny Nagunst earned an aluminum bat and a hardball by selling 50 bottles of the product which was offered. Carl Henry also sold 50 bottles and earned a fielder's glove. Both Darrell Bruffett and Dave Lane earned hardballs.

Again, a big "thank you" to all the people in our area who helped these boys earn their prizes and also helped out the "Y" ball program.

GEORGE AND HELLEN Schmidt spent several days last week in Oklahoma City while George attended the American Business Club's national convention.

Hellen said that she managed to get in a little shopping and toured the Cowboy Hall of Fame while George was attending the meetings. However, she said her husband did find time to play in a golf tournament while they were there.

Hellen also said that although they enjoyed their trip, they were really anxious to get home to their daughter, Kaki, who is now two and a half months old.

I SINCERELY HOPE all of you will have a safe 4th of July weekend. I suppose popping firecrackers is, for many people, just a part of the fun of childhood — but for their sake, I hope it doesn't end there.

Espinosa Baby Born

Mr. and Mrs. Juan Espinosa of Rt. 1, Happy announce the June 26 birth of a daughter, Erma, who weighed 4 pounds, 14 ounces and measured 18 inches on arrival at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The father is employed in farming for Everett Culp at Happy. Other children in the family are Andria, 12, Antonia, 10 and Juan, Jr., 9.

Grandparents are Reyes DeLeon of Sebastian, Tex. and Mr. and Mrs. Estevan Espinosa of Hobbs, N.M.

Miss Happy Crown Awarded Gay Venhaus

By MARY NEAL HENRY

THE THEME FOR the Annual Miss Happy Contest sponsored by the Happy Jaycee-Ettes, was "From Tomboys to Ladies."

Gay Venhaus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Venhaus, was crowned Miss Happy by Lissa Foster, the 1974 Miss Happy. Lissa is the daughter of Mrs. Dick Foster.

Lisa Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Johnson, was first Runner-Up. Marta Donnell, daughter of Mrs. Betty Donnell, was second Runner-Up.

Neil McCarley was Master of Ceremonies for the evening. Lisa Payne played background music. Entertainment was provided by the Happy Singers, Andi Payne, Carla Venhaus, Debbie Parker, Rhnea Selvidge, and Patti Luker, accompanied by Carolyn Moudy.

Dance groups of Barbara Tucek of Canyon also performed. One group was Shawna Harvey, J'Taun Burks, Mandi Shipman, Vickie Todd and Melissa Harvey. Another group included Shandy Harvey. Elloise Thompson of Canyon did a solo tap dance to "Raindrops." (If interest is enough, Barbara will give lessons in Happy.)

Other entries in the Miss Happy contest were Pam Andrews, Pearl Perez, Nancy Woods, Diane Johnson, Terry Peterson, Debbie Parker and Brenda Parker. Gay Venhaus was crowned with a tiara, presented a bouquet of flowers and given a $25 wardrobe gift certificate.

Shay Freeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Freeman, was crowned Miss Junior Miss by Rhnea Selvidge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Selvidge. She was also given a bouquet of flowers and a $15 wardrobe certificate.

Dana Foster, daughter of Mrs. Dotty Foster, was first runner-up. Rani Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Foster, was second runner-up. (no relation.) Other contestants were Kay Lynn Stubblefield, Teresa Luker, Carrie Venhaus, Sharla Miller, Kelly Weavers, Vickie Jones, Connie Venhaus, Teresa Luker, Sharla Miller, Genie Jackson, Vickie Venhaus, Cindy Duggan and Debbie Dietz.

Little Miss Happy is Carrie Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Johnson. She was crowned by Shauna Hampton, the retiring Little Miss Happy and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hampton. She, too, received a bouquet of flowers and a wardrobe certificate for $10. DeAnn McCarley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McCarley, was first runner-up. Jacinda Stockett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Stockett, was second runner-up. Others in the contest were Denise Wilhelm, Patti Peterson, Mandi Shipman, Trisha Hargrave, J'Taun Burks, Stacy Tate, and Shawna Harvey.

Chairman for the project was Joy Freeman.

ONE HUNDRED NINETY eight horses were entered in the District Two Horse Show in Lubbock on Monday and Tuesday. County Agents reported the show to be the biggest ever held in that area. Ken Cook was the general superintendent. Swisher took twenty entries, including Eddie Joe Pearson, Sherri Starkey, Valerie Tipps, Guy Walt Via, Neal Odom, Kevin Odom, Angelique Henry, Denette Davis, Denise Reed, Cathy Tucker, Dudley and Julie McClurg, Nancy Keim, Brad Bradley, Wayne Reed, Shaylene Vineyard, Kenee and Wade Littlefield, Pat Tomlin and Nancy Keim. Parents attending were Joan and Pete Odom and their Kyle, Guy Faye and Walter Via and their Becky and friend, Mary Shipp. Mary Neal Henry, Floyd and Betty Tipps, LaVelle and Jess Starkey and Billie and Wayne Pearson.

Eddie Joe Pearson won the calf roping contest on Monday evening with a time of 20.63. The roping contest was a judged as well as timed event. Ronnie McDonald won seventh and Neal Odom won eighth.

Eddie Joe Pearson won fourth at halter with his grade gelding, King, and will be included in the state entries.

HAPPY CHIEFS BEAT the Nazareth Astros twelve to seven Tuesday evening, to end the regular season. Jaimi Johnson and Doug Peterson each hit a home run. Andrew Cumby caught a fly in the sixth inning which prevented at least three Nazareth runs.

The first All Star game will be played in Happy Thursday evening. The second will be played in Nazareth on Saturday. Those teams are not yet chosen.

Connie Hand won second in shott putt and Vincent Ray Venhaus won first in the long jump at the recent District AAU tournament in Borger. Both will enter the regional tournament in Hattieburg, at the University of Mississippi.

Vincent Ray Venhaus will also play with the All Star Babe Ruth Team next week in Elkhart, Kansas.

Raphe Shipman (and I know Jack Hayes) played on the All Star thirteen year old Babe Ruth team in Perryton this week.

Hamblens Honored

Alfred and Eutha Hamblen were honored Sunday afternoon, June 29, with a Golden Wedding Anniversary reception at the Canyon Community Center with numerous friends and relatives attending.

The anniversary reception also served as a family reunion time for the Hamblen's children and grandchildren who had not all been together in over 20 years.

The Hamblen's were married April 26, 1925 at Happy and have lived in the Wayside and Canyon communities for 50 years. He is a retired farmer and Mrs. Hamblen, also retired, was a West Texas State University employee for 13 years after serving as secretary for the Farm Bureau for 10 years. She authored the volume "Rim To Rim" concerning the construction of a road across the Palo Duro Canyon from Silverton to Claude which was published in 1963.

Hosting the anniversary event were the couple's children: Mrs. Bill Canafax of Davis, Calif., A. B. Hamblen of Happy, and Mrs. Carol Schrib, Guy Hamblen and Sonny Hamblen, all of Canyon. The Hamblens also have 15 grandchildren and five great grandchildren who were co-hosts for the event.
